Almost all the interns said that the programme was helpful in learning more about COVID-19 prevention & vaccination. Most of the students said that programme was needful. In this programme, majority of the students liked sessions related to COVID-19 disease & vaccination and also myths & facts about vaccination. All students liked health education materials preparation and were actively involved. Most of the interns said that programme was very well organized and few suggested to include skits, role plays, visiting the session site, informing the importance of vaccination, covering more resistant areas with intense door to door campaign. Interns also suggested that this programme should be conducted on regular basis, which will enhance their skills of communication with general population.

In the question asked related to the Vaccination drive in Ukkali & Chandabawadi, interns said that in rural area, it's very difficult to convince the people, they need more awareness regarding vaccination. In urban area, people are educated and getting their vaccination. From this programme, interns got to know how to communicate with people, how the awareness helps in removing the myths by proper education and different challenges of urban & rural areas regarding utilization of health services especially COVID- 19 vaccination.
