Editor's Note....

Dear Readers,

Greetings from BLDE University. The third trimester witnessed variety of activities and footfalls of distinguished guests as expert team from UGC who were here to review and guide us. This part of the state received good rainfall this year and we used this opportunity to improve the green cover of the campus. There is a small note on innovation by our postgraduate which is cost effective and very useful for learners. Hope this news letter makes an interesting read. Happy Deepavali.

Regards,

Dr. Tejaswini Vallabha

UTILIZATION OF OPEN SOURCE TECHNOLOGY TO CREATE COST EFFECTIVE PORTABLE CAMERA SYSTEMS IN TEACHING

Dr. Anil Reddy K (3rd year PG, Department of Pathology)

Pathology is the branch of Medicine which characterizes the disease at the tissue level and at times to the cellular level. The present-day norm of teaching Pathology is digitized and done as a combination of the High Definition LED panels or projectors, custom made manufacturer provided HD camera, adaptor and teaching trinocular head microscopes. But even with the digitization and rapidly advancing technologies, the cost of the Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) cameras and adapters is still high which amounts to a minimum of Rs.1,15,000/- for a single microscope.

With upgradation of the display panels and projectors to best possible resolutions at all the teaching galleries, demonstration rooms and practical halls, the high-resolution camera has become the missing piece to utilize these display devices to their full potential at all these locations. The department is equipped with a digital camera system in histopathology section for teaching purposes and low resolution closed circuit system for slide demonstration in practical hall.

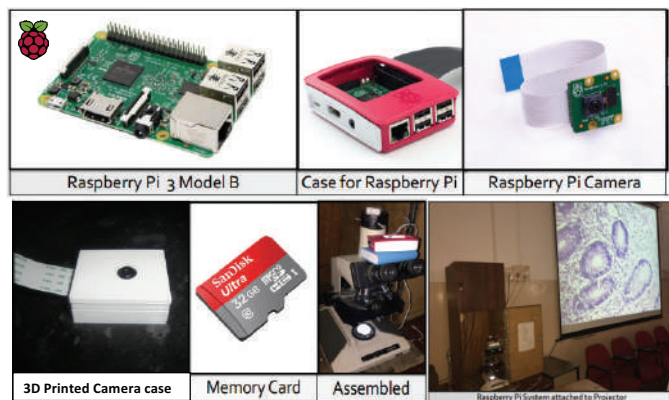

The utilization of the open source technologies and 3D printing had helped us in achieving this digitization at a fraction of the cost at a mere Rs.6000 and an additional advantage of portable camera system which can convert any binocular microscope to a teaching microscope enabling us to have the facility of slide demonstration in all the teaching locations.

The systems comprised of Raspberry Pi camera system and Mobile High Definition Link system (MHL). Raspberry Pi is the credit card sized, single board computer which is an open source initiative. Pairing it with the Raspberry Pi camera, a Sony IMX219 8MP sensor, HD (30fps) fixed focus device which delivers a high definition image to the LED panels available in the histopathology and cytology sections. The adapter which aligns the Pi camera system to the eye piece objective of any compound microscope is an open source design which enables this flexibility.

In case of MHL system, a list of mobiles with inbuilt MHL capability is provided in <http://www.mhltech.org/devices.aspx> which needs to be paired with an adaptor and MHL cable available in the open market. Like the Raspberry Pi system this also provides portability at a fraction of the cost. The Raspberry Pi system is being used for the Trinocular head microscopes and the MHL system is used for binocular microscopes successfully in the Department of Pathology for various teaching activities for the past one year.

Student Writes

“Here is the word Beautiful and terrible thing will happen. Don’t be afraid”

And yes, finally the doors to medical college opened. Last 2 years finally bore the result.

But to enter this new world, we people lost behind many a things out of which the place to which we belong and our parents can’t be ignored at all.

“Where we love is home, home that our feet may leave, but not our hearts” keeping this in mind, the journey with BLDE started. The way we here was overwhelming. Teachers, staff and all other members are always available to help us out. The College would not have been same without their cooperation. The first picture with “The white coat” was not any ordinary thing. This “white coat” is our prized possession because this consists of our handwork we put in to thrive towards excellence. The stethoscope did not look like any ordinary instrument, it was there to become our jewel.

on The very first day on the dissection table holding those instruments gave us the pride the glorious thing that happened was due to our college and efforts they put in for making our future scintillating. The hospital visit, although made us anxious, faces of young interns becoming with pride was enough to tell that no matter how much work road we going to have in near future our teachers will help us always.

The profession we chose is not going to be easy to pursue but with the support of people around us, we will surely any pass with flying colors. Be it whatever department, teachers are always on their toes and always strive for excellence. Sometimes the things become too monotonous but the various co curricular activities organized are enough to refresh us. I would like to thank BLDE University’s Shri B. M. Patil Medical College, Hospital and Research Centre for giving me this opportunity to study here and making way out to enter my dream profession. This campus is enough to make us realize our responsibilities towards the society. I would like to express my gratitude to every teacher, postgraduates and undergraduates for keeping us juniors Confident and Comfortable.

After completing the course only one thing will come to my mind and I always would be indicated to my Alma Motor. “Now is not the time to give up. God has brought you this far and after all you went through to get to this point, know that he is still with you. So keep on doing well and trusting him. Don’t grow weary. Your time is coming, and through him, you are going to make it”
