UNBREAKABLE

There is a very strong and powerful reason why I chose this topic. UNBREAKABLE isn't a single word, it comes with a very wise meaning - "BROKEN BUT UNDEFEATED".

There are various events in an individual's life where he/she faced an UNBREAKABLE scenarios and chose be that!. As I am built today is all because of several role models I chose to have in my life, particularly for discipline MAXIMUS MERIDIUS DECIMUS will always be at top for me, he is a great warrior, husband, father and last GLADIATOR. No matter how the enemy killed or suffered his family a brutal death n burnt his home horribly he chose not to be broken and not stop until he completes his duty for his king / Empire and stand his ground.

Similarly I want to share a incident of a man named Utivich Raine whose actions and sacrifices and unbelievable soul strength made a him a person who he is now. Right from the birth Utivich was a brilliant lad kinda ideal student, he had made some strong friendship bonds which was probably unbreakable. But as years passed by and he grew upto be 22 years He was infatuated towards a girl named Paris von Hammersmack who used to sit across the same table every day at a restaurant wearing that same hand knitted woolen cap and a beige colore stol with a greenish to yellow colored top and a black jeans with sneakers and a wired earphone around her neck. Poor Utivich was hesitant to approach her . On one fine morning Utivich decided enthusiastically to go n talk to her n make contact with her .. which later on he didn't regret this decision. As days went by Utivich and Paris talked and talked and talked and became one of the closest friends in just a month. One day as Utivich was playing football with his friends coincidentally Paris was present there too . And apparently Utivich got injured on his right toe which was heavily bleeding and his team needed him badly to score. The action which happened further made Utivich complete fall for Paris and was married to her in his mind Lol. Paris furiously came running towards Utivich with a piece of cloth and a water bottle and cleaned the wound and tied her kerchief on his toe for the time being so that he can play further and win the match. As match resumed Utivich scored the winning goal and his team won , and the first person Utivich went and hugged was Paris infront of everyone irrespective of what people think.. he just was melted towards her. As months passed by Utivich was getting confidence to ask her out but little did he know of the upcoming disaster. Utivich had a trio of best friends naming Aaron , Vincent and himself, as Utivich was busy thinking Paris will accept his proposal but the train had already left the station for him .. because Paris was with Vincent and Utivich had the least idea that his best friend secretly behind his back played a trick on him. As days passed by Utivich was completely lost and heartbroken, thinking that life had ended and he has to terminate his studies and just wait for a right opportunity, but that's not how this world or life works , it's true , being heartbroken for several reasons makes a person discombobulate and disconnected from himself but the one thing which outshows why that person is a winner is how he tackles through these situations and so did Utivich, he was daily having disturbing thoughts but it didn't stop him from working hard every single day for the next 4 years and guess what he became a successful and famous neurosurgeon in his town and didn't stop for the rest of his life and made his mantra NEVER GIVE UP ...

similarly if u observe two metal balls put on two paths one with straight road and other with bumps na d obstacles the winner is always with obstacles path because he knows how to remain resistant and UNBREAKABLE throughout his journey and he jumps to certain height to reach that success.

It is very true statement which says EMBRACE PAIN which shows you both the bright and dark sides in that process if u become a monster too don't apologise anyone because this monster makes u feel better and stronger and succesful people are just living like a machine plugged into a charging portal whose battery is about to die. So in a world full of Humans be a GODZILLA and breathe fire always which makes u outspoken and fearless and UNBELIEVABLE UNBREAKABLE.
